SITUATION WANTED

By a lady as travelling companion, or in a quiet family, as amanuensis to an elderly lady; best references given and required.

Address, W. H., June 12-21. Winston, N. C.

July 4th, 1888.

The most interesting event of the occasion will be the encampment of old soldiers, who will "dwell in tents" as in the old war time fashion, drawing rations on the third and fourth and disband on the morning of the 5th. Col. A. H. Belo will command, and Chas. F. Babson, of Farmington, Davis county, will act as Quartermaster.

The Trade and Mechanical Display on floats, will eclipse anything ever seen here.

10 Fire Companies have been invited to attend. 10 Historic Floats 30 Trade Floats, 3 full bands of Music, 13 young ladies representing the 13 original States on gaily caparisoned palfrays.

The morning exercises will take place in the Salem Public Square. Col. F. H. Fries, is President of the Day. W. G. Burkhead, Editor of the Durham Tobacco Plant, will read the National Declaration of Independence.

In the afternoon, a display of blooded live stock, horses and cattle, will be made in procession.

Military companies from Greensboro, Reidsville, Durham, Charlotte, Fayetteville, Statesville, Raleigh, Oxford, Asheville and Washington, D. C., have been invited to attend. Col. James D. Glenn will command.

At night a grand display of fireworks.

J. C. Buxton, Chief Marshal, with the following assistants:

Young Men's Democratic Club.

On Friday night last, several hundred young Democrats organized a Cleveland and Fowl Club. Considerable enthusiasm was manifested. J. S. Grogan, Esq., was elected as temporary Chairman and J. O. Foy, Secretary.

The Club then permanently organized by electing R. B. Kerner, Esq., as President, and the editors of the Democratic newspapers of Winston-Salem as Secretaries.

12 Vice-Presidents were chosen in the order named: E. E. Gray, A. H. Eller, H. C. Wooters, H. A. Giersch, C. Buford, W. H. Wood, W. C. Brown, James Miller, S. E. Allen, H. E. Fries, J. Bynum, R. J. Reynolds.

The following Executive Committee was selected: C. B. Watson, Hollowell Pierce, T. L. Vaughn, B. J. Sheppard, M. W. Norfleet, John Taylor, C. E. Crist, Edward Butler, H. E. Keehn, C. J. Lanier.

Messrs. T. R. Pepper, R. L. Crawford and W. T. Carter were appointed a committee on finance.

Lewis Williams was elected treasurer.

The President was authorized to appoint a committee to frame a constitution and by-laws for the government of the club. The following were appointed: J. G. Young, J. S. Grogan, Dr. H. T. Babson, C. E. Crist, G. E. Vogler.

One hundred and thirty-nine names were then enrolled, whereupon the club adjourned until next Friday night, when the membership will be largely increased.

A nice lot of new styles of Stationery just received at ASHCRAFT & OWENS, Druggists, Winston. May 31-tf.

—We would call attention to the striking new ad. of W. D. Baity & Sons, of the Bee Hive Store, Winston. Combines and trusts get some pretty hard knocks. The Bee Hive's trade has been large beyond the most sanguine expectations of the proprietors, and hence, in addition to their already efficient force, they have been compelled to add Miss Phoebe Turner, of Salem, Mr. Will Smoak, the celebrated shoe man, and Mr. John Marler, formerly with D. S. Reid. The credit system must positively go, say W. D. Baity & Sons. Be sure and read their ad.

—A list of Letters remaining in the Post Office at Salem, N. C., for the week ending June 16, 1888:

Salem in 1792.

A friend handed us the following extract from the New York Evening Post, of June 5th, 1888. It will perhaps be of interest to some of our readers.

One of the earliest of our Congressmen was a Mr. William Smith from South Carolina. At the end of our first Congress he went, on Washington's invitation, with him to visit Boston. Thence he rode across Massachusetts to the Shaker Settlement at Lebanon; thence to Albany, and down the river to New York. He shipped a sully from Philadelphia to Richmond, whence he proceeded in a direct line by Prince Edward Court-house and crossed the Dan at Dix's ferry. So he passed near Patrick Henry's house "who is now making a great deal of money by large fecs of $50 or $100 for clearing out thieves and murderers, which has lost him much of the great reputation he enjoyed in his neighborhood." But this slap at the great Virginian was made during his temporary sojourn from Washington, caused by misrepresentation and misunderstanding on both sides. After examining Jones' iron works on "Great Troublesome" creek and taking the right hand road two miles from the works, and spending a night at Dobson's where he got a very good breakfast Mr. Smith recorded:

"The road continues good, with a few interruptions of steep and broken hills, to Salem. After travelling through woods for many days the sight of this little settlement of Moravians is highly curious and interesting. Between 200 and 300 persons of this sect, here assembled, live in brotherly love and set a laudable example of industry, unfortunately too little observed and followed out in this part of the country. Every man follows some occupation; every woman is engaged in some domestic work, such as spinning, making, putter, sandler, tinner, brewer, distiller, etc., etc. here seen at work; for their labors they not only supply themselves but the country all around them. The first view of the town is romantic, just as it breaks upon you through the woods; it is pleasantly situated on a rising slope, and is surrounded by beautiful meadows, well cultivated fields and shady woods."

"The antique appearance of the houses, built in the German style, and the trees among which they are placed have a singular and pleasing effect; the whole resembles a beautiful village, and forms a pastoral scene. On my arrival I waited on a Mr. Bagge, one of the brethren, and a respectable old gentleman who keeps a store here. Having introduced myself to him he very politely conducted me to the singing school, and to all the different trades. I found every one hard at work; such a scene of industry, perhaps, exists nowhere in so small a place. The brewery and distillery are considerable; the beer is very good and a capital one out of the city, excellent. Water brought from the adjacent rivulets is collected in large pipes and conveyed to all the houses; at a tanner's, a very small quantity falling from a great height turns a large wheel and works the pestles with which the bark is broken up. Every house has its garden. Their discipline and customs resemble generally those of Bethlehem in Pennsylvania. There are two settlements or towns near Salem, but they are sickly. The settlement in this State covers about 90,000 acres; Salem covers 2,000. There are in all 1,500 souls; 260 at Salem, 200 at the other settlements, and the residue scattered on different farms. The church yard is on a hill above the town surrounded by shady groves; the graves are all distinct, laid out in apartments, a small square stone on each only mentions the name, the place they come from, and the age and day of death. It is surprising to find what a medley of nations lie here interred; it is astonishing to find the small number of deaths. Since their first settlement in Salem, which was in 1729, there are only buried here ten boys, twelve girls, fourteen single men, only one single woman, thirteen married women, nine married men, and one negro, total sixty; which in the space of twenty years is only three persons a year, a surprising proof of the good effects of industry, sobriety, temperance, and a good situation. Between eight and nine o'clock I attended their evening service, which consisted only of singing, accompanied by an organ. I was much pleased with the music, which was good, and with the very orderly and decent appearance of the audience.

Friday, May 6th, (1792).—Very much pleased with Salem, and recruited by the best bed since I left home. I proceeded to Salisbury by a most excellent road, and crossed the Yadkin at Long's ferry."

To the Public School Teachers of Forsyth County:

I have received from the State Superintendent of Public Instruction a roll of blank certificates, which are intended for the use of such Common School Teachers as choose to avail themselves of the privilege of attending one or another of our State Normal this year.

These certificates, if countersigned by myself, will entitle the holder to reduced rates of Railroad fare to any of these schools which they may decide to attend.

Asheville Normal opens on July 3d, and closes July 20th; Spartanburg opens July 30th, and closes August 27th; Washington opens July 19th, and closes August 16th; Winston opens July 10th, and closes July 27th; Franklin opens July 16th, and closes August 13th; Newton opens July 5th, and closes July 27th; Elizabeth City opens July 9th, and closes July 27th; Wilson opens July 5th, and closes July 25th; Goldsboro (col.) opens June 4th and closes July 4th; Greensboro, (col.) opens 2nd, closes July 27th.

The arrangement for reduced Railroad fare extends to all the principal lines in the State, and the shorter lines operated by them. The rates for return tickets for short distances, 50 miles and under are about 4 cents per mile; for 80 miles $2.70, 100 miles $3.25; 150 miles $4.30; 200 miles $5.00, and so on, decreasing as the distance increases over the same line.

So much for Normals at other points—now as to the one we shall have at home.

At last meeting of the County Board of Education, it was resolved to unite our County Normals this year with the Winston Normal, which commences on July 10th, and closes on the 27th, as already stated. All the teachers should according to law, attend Normals or Institutes appointed by the County Board of Education. You are therefore urged to attend the Winston Normal this year. There will be present a number of skillful and distinguished educators, all of them Southern gentlemen who best understand our necessities, and who will conduct the exercises of the Normal, keeping in view the immediate requirements of our own corps of teachers.

As I have been invited to be personally present and take a hand in the work, I shall be able to suggest just what will be most to your advantage; and I have every reason to believe such suggestions will be heeded. With this assurance I entreat you, one and all, male and female, to come up and see what is offered for your advancement, and an opportunity afforded you free of cost.

Board can be obtained on terms exceptionally liberal, these having been procured for your benefit by the exertions of Prof. W. A. Blair, Superintendent of the Normal.

At all events, come up—be with us—and I assure you that you will have no doubt you will be both gratified and benefited.

A. I. BUTLER, Co. Supt.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippis, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing. Another, a Hare, a Druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters. Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure the Rheumatism of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at Winston, at Dr. V. O. Thompson's Drug Store.

DAVIDSON COUNTY

From the Lexington Dispatch. Davidson Superior Court.

The June term of Superior Court was the dullist for many years. In the case of Pickett and others for beating Bill Leonard, Pickett, Leonard and Tussey were convicted. Tussey alone appeared, the others had left the State. John Shoaf, Henry Lemly and Ben Lemly were convicted of affray; Shoaf had a gun but did not fire; Ben Lemly fired on him with a pistol, shooting him through the arm. Henry Lemly was discharged on payment of costs. The others were fined twenty dollars each and costs and were required to give bonds to keep the peace.

The following civil cases were disposed of:

Baltimore Gold and Silver Mining and Smelting Co., vs Silver Valley Mining Co., nonsuit.

Silver Valley Mining Co., vs Baltimore Co., judgment according to decision of Supreme Court affirming finding of referee.

A. H. Kenley vs Jacob Hedrick, adm'r judgment according to report of referee.

H. T. Phillips, receiver vs C. L. Heitman et al., judgment.

J. L. Grubb vs Marinda Lookabill, judgment for plaintiff in accordance with decision of Supreme Court.

R. H. Humphreys vs E. A. Byerly, nonsuit.

John Yokely vs Peter F. Everhart, judgment for plaintiff.

Excitement in Texas.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Tex., by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of Consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of Pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds.
